Competitions

We will be having regular competitions throughout the year which are open to everyone (students, parents or anyone else) which will usually be logical problems aimed at getting students to think a little outside the box, the current competition can be found here or on our Facebook page. The winner will be selected at random from all correct entries and receive a £10 voucher of their choice. To have a greater chance of winning, why not get your friends and family to enter too. You don't need to be a student at Direct Tuition to enter, you can get family in other countries to enter if you wish.

Blog

Our blog will be updated regularly with articles for students and parents. We are currently planning a list of articles to write, if you have any suggestions on articles which you would like to know more about and we will be happy to research and write them. Have you read our latest article?

Student of the Month

Each month we will select a student of the month. We will use various criteria for selecting the student of the month including exam results, most improved student, most effort or anything else that makes them stand out. If you wish to nominate someone to become the student of the month, please let us know (you cannot nominate yourself). The student of the month will receive a voucher and a short article written on them on that month's newsletter. A student will not be able to get student of the month more than once per year.
